I know it's early access, but. this is absolute garbage. The physics don't work, the sound doesn't work, you can't change the color of your ball. Your ball starts rolling immediately when the course starts. I'm willing to try out early access stuff and take a few bugs, but this is totally untested. One of the holes, you can't even get to the pin. If you go out of bounds, it returns your ball to the beginning of the course. Refunding.. Lots of potential with an integrated map editor and solid multiplayer. It was good fun amongst friends. Seems to be frequently updated with bug fixes and new content on the regular. It's for those who like these types of games! surely it is worth the small price of admission.. Lots of potential with an integrated map editor and solid multiplayer. It was good fun amongst friends. 0.7 Released : We're back again. This patch focuses on play-ability and stability. The biggest change of note is the new putting rules, configurable in the lobby.. 0.10.0 - Propped Up : This update lets you place props that aren't generic level pieces around your workshop maps, bundled with an assortment of other map creator features. Heads up that our update schedule places releases on Tuesdays now, rather than Thursday or Friday. 0.10.0 Patch Notes. Update 0.5 - Point Control Score UI and Free Camera : Having spent this past week working on adding more core functionality and enhancements to the game we have really appreciated the input from you all. Changelog: [New feature] Spectate other players once you have completed the current hole [New feature] Free camera: Hit C to fly around the map and view it! No more guessing where things are [Enhancement] Respawn: You will now respawn at your last landed spot instead of back at the start of the hole [Enhancement] Updated the network library for more reliable connections [Bug fix] Number of players in room is now actually giving you information.. 0.10.0 - Propped Up : This update lets you place props that aren't generic level pieces around your workshop maps, bundled with an assortment of other map creator features. Heads up that our update schedule places releases on Tuesdays now, rather than Thursday or Friday. 0.10.0 Patch Notes. Update 0.3 - We are Live! : Thank you for everyone for the support offered, and with it we have managed to actually get the game released! This is the first release public release so please be understanding that it is a bit rough, but we are still going hard at working on the game, and there will be a new patch focusing on bug fixes and enhancements coming soon!. Update 0.6 - Map Creator Quality of Life : This week was about filling out and fixing quality of life issues with the map creator. To that end we will also be publishing an actual full map on the workshop, "Tunnels and Doors". Change log: Enhancements Map Creator Rule set selector hides itself and auto selects mode when those modes are enabled.. Update 0.5 - Point Control Score UI and Free Camera : Having spent this past week working on adding more core functionality and enhancements to the game we have really appreciated the input from you all.
